TESTIMONIALS.

DEAR ALBRECHT:—I have given Armstrong's Studies for Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar a thorough trial and find them excellent. As a test of their merit I relate the following experience: At a small town, 20 miles from Toledo, a class of 12 pupils was organized for me. Every Tuesday morning I take the 7.20 train, arrive at my destination at 8 A. M. Give two private lessons, and then for nearly two hours I instruct a class of 12 pupils. I wish you could see the result. They accomplish more in the two hours' drill than they would in two weeks of private instruction. And, besides, it pays me better, for I get 50 cents from each pupil in the class and am not physically exhausted when through. I would advise other teachers to try class teaching, and by using Armstrong's Studies there can be no reasonable excuse for failure. I heartily recommend them. Yours sincerely,

L. D. BURFORD, Toledo, Ohio.

O. H. ALBRECHT:—The Armstrong Studies for Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar to hand. If I had time I'd write you a testimonial on same, but to mention all the good points they contain, it would take me a whole day to write you how pleased I am. I will just say ship me, at once, 75 books of Book 1, 2, 3, for Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, 450 books in all.

Yours fraternally,
G. C. CLAUSS,
Teacher of Mandolin, Banjo and Guitar,
Lansford, Pa.

T. J. ARMSTRONG: Dear Sir—I have mentioned the Studies to all I have met who are doing class work and also to others. They are splendidly arranged and materially lighten the work of the teacher as well as the students. You are certainly to be congratulated on having produced a work that will interest the beginner and the advanced player as well. The fact that the Studies enable teachers to instruct classes composed of Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Students should be sufficient to induce teachers to use them, and their use cannot fail to increase the popularity of these instruments. The work will undoubtedly enhance the great and splendid reputation as an arranger you have established, and it will be a pleasure to me to recommend the same, wherever I go. With best wishes. Sincerely yours,

A. A. FARLAND.

Having had years of experience as a club leader and teacher, and having used many different methods, I honestly state that after giving Armstrong's Class Studies a thorough test I find them far superior to anything in that line now on the market. Yours very truly,

J. H. MINGES,
Leader of American Students' Mandolin Club.

I have thoroughly examined Armstrong's Class Studies and find they will supply a long-felt want. Yours,

PAUL ENO.
